Student Transportation of America is a New Jersey-based school bus contractor that focuses on rural and suburban areas. It is the third-largest school bus transportation services provider in North America, with over 11,500 vehicles that transport students in more than 225 school districts.

Oracle Cloud EPM Business Drivers

Student Transportation of America had been experiencing growth and change which created the need for a more cohesive, streamlined platform. The reliance on multiple processes for financial planning, account reconciliation, and close & consolidation had become very cumbersome and labor intensive. The disparate solution created a lack of transparency and visibility which became an increasingly larger issue for leadership.

Peloton Consulting Group was chosen to support the needs of Student Transportation and create a path to a more integrated solution. Peloton implemented Oracle Cloud EPM for Planning, Financial Close & Consolidation, Enterprise Data Management, and Account Reconciliation. The Oracle Cloud EPM deployment achieved the following benefits for Student Transportation:

Streamlined & automated the planning, close, forecast & annual budget processes

Enhanced actuals, reporting & data availability for real-time visibility

Improved governance allowed for change request visualization & proper workflow management

Stay in the Know with Peloton Consulting Group

Peloton Consulting Group had a great week of extensive networking and strategic planning sessions with Oracle at FY25 Sales Kickoff. We were excited to see how Peloton and Oracle continue to grow and stay aligned in our collaborative approach to innovation, transformation, and delivering the best possible customer experience.

Oracle and Peloton are truly better together. We have One Strategy, One Team, and One Amazing Alliance.
