Toyota Industries Commercial Finance (TICF) is the proud lender for Toyota Forklifts & Hino Trucks. Their focus is to provide the highest-quality products and services for millions of customers and dealers with flexible, scalable solutions since 1985.

Project Overview

Toyota Industries Commercial Finance (TICF) recognized they were spending excessive time and effort developing and manipulating Excel spreadsheets. Through value added software selection engagements and a proven track record of success, Peloton Consulting Group differentiated the joint solution from the competition, which ultimately led TICF business leaders to select Oracle EPM Cloud - Planning. The successful implementation demonstrated value to their business operations quickly and built a new solution to improve TICF financial planning and reporting processes.

Business Challenges

TICF's previous business environment was supported by an outdated SAP application that could no longer keep up with business needs and growth. TICF implemented a single, digitally enabled EPM Platform to improve:

- Long planning cycle times
- Time consuming manual activities in Excel
- Responsiveness to Market Fluidity
- Highly complex interdependent business models

Key Accomplishments

Working closely with TICF's finance organization, Peloton successfully implemented Oracle EPM Cloud - Planning and delivered a robust Cloud solution which successfully replaced SAP IBP and provided the following benefits:

- Standardized financial reporting and forecasting
- Accurate & detailed information
- Financial planning efficiency, reducing manual processes and removing risk
- "One Source of the Truth" for Reporting & Analytics
